FOURTEENTH CROP REPORT

As harvest approaches the condition of crops throughout the Province is better than was anticipated earlier in the season, with the exception of the south-eastern part of the Province and central eastern areas crops are good. In the eastern area where conditions were unfavorable throughout the early part of the growing period late rains have caused excellent growth of oats and barley, and if the frost period is prolonged, there will be fair yields of wheat.

The hot dry weather of the past fortnight has caused too rapid ripening of crops in the south-eastern part of the Province, where moisture was not plentiful. In the central and northern areas where heavy rains fell during July and where crops were maturing slowly, these high temperatures have caused more rapid ripening without serious injury to quality.

Wheat cutting has commenced in the south and will be general next week. Throughout the central and northern parts cutting will be general in from ten to fourteen days.

Frost has been reported from one point in the Peace River district, but damage seems to have been very slight. Light damage has occurred at several points throughout the Province.

Conditions with regard to pasture, hay and feed are fairly satisfactory. In the alfalfa growing areas, the second growth of alfalfa is fairly heavy and of excellent quality. The Sugar Beet crop is better than the average

Grade VIII Pupils Make Good Showing

Nineteen Tried and so far Eighteen passed.

Pupils who wrote on the mid-summer grade VIII exams, are now receiving their standing and diplomas from the Department of Education. As the results have not yet been published the Review has experienced some difficulty securing complete return. We would esteem it a favor of all grade VIII pupils would let us know their standing as soon as they have heard from the Department as the teacher is out of town and is very anxious to get the complete results.

In the Examinations here 19 pupils wrote and we understand that 18 passed and have received their diplomas. The other one has not yet heard from the department. The successful ones reported are:

James Brown, Robert Buchholz, Sam Fulton, Paul Garrecht, Margaret Johnson, Ted Lawson, Harold Lenning, Lillian Lenning, Ted Mackell, Clas Miller, Pearl Moore, Stella McGeary, Elizabeth Pallie, Aartha Reymen, Louise Smith, John Soukup, Mary Soukup, and Oliver Smith.

The Review understands that several of the pupils passed with honors in some subjects.

Nice Shower For Redcliff Bride-Elect

Held at the Home of Mrs. Keely Johnson Last Evening.

Last evening Mrs. K. Johnson and Mrs. H. Baird entertained at the home of the former in honor of Miss Mary Johnson, bride-elect who is to be married next Tuesday to Mr. Alex Gray. The evening took the form of a shower and after the friends had assembled little Louise Britt wheeled into the drawing room a pretty laden with all kinds of pretty and useful presents for the bride-elect.

After the presentations progressive whist was played and Mrs. McGeary won the prize, the Consolation going to Miss E. Jones.

Refreshments were also served and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

A full staff of teachers has been engaged for the Redcliff School when it opens on Sept. 4.

Brick & Coal Wins The Second Round in Provincial Championship

Redcliff Brick & Coal football team advanced another step in the provincial championship games by defeating Lethbridge last Saturday evening 1-0.

As a result of this win the Brick & Coal are billed to play Kimberley in Medicine Hat on Saturday evening of this week.

Although the high wind last Saturday evening spoiled the play considerably both teams put up a stubborn fight and battled to a finish for supremacy. Lethbridge won the toss and selected to play with the wind for the first half. The visitors started off well and for a time it looked as though they should be easy winners. They made repeated attacks and had several shots on goal but Thomson in the Bricks net was there with the barrier every time making some most sensational saves, and with the assistance of the back making Lethbridge forwards think they were in very sorry shape against a "Brick" wall. Aided by the wind in this period Lethbridge kept ball in dangerous ground almost throughout but were unable to break through, and the half ended without a score.

For the first few minutes of the second half Lethbridge appeared to have taken on new energy but by this time the Bricks were also getting into their old time swing and made things more lively. Their attacks were more frequent and steady and despite the increasing gale, they made some nice rushes. After about 15 minutes play the Bricks forwards broke through three abreast with what looked like a sure goal, but when just within a few yards of the net one of the Lethbridge defenders handled the ball. A penalty was given and Bill Willis sent in a sizzling which the goalie could not save although he tried hard.

There was no more scoring during the game and thus the Bricks have gone up another rung in the provincial championship ladder.

The teams lined up as follows: Redcliff: Thomson; Y. Lawson, Fairhurst, Lakey, Willis, Turner; Dutton, Patterson, W. Lawson, Kilner, and Foy.

Lethbridge: A. Lepping; Tennant, Donaldson; Pink, Wilson, Connor; Barr, Sumner, Spith, W. Lepping and Lakely.

Referee: Hugh Goldie.

Linesman: A. C. Wade, Medicine Hat; C. Brennan, Lethbridge.

Wheat Pool Officials Discussing Payments

One of the most momentous conferences of the year, especially watched by 10,000 agriculturists of the Prairie West, members of the wheat pools, is under way at Winnipeg.

Financing of the 1930 grain crop is the subject under discussion in the board room of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers Limited, the central selling agency of the three prairie wheat pools—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

With A. J. McPhail, president, presiding, the meeting opened Wednesday morning and continued throughout the afternoon. It will probably conclude this evening, but until then no statement will be issued as to the progress made.

The Medicine Hat News says: "Students of political economy will regret the defeat of the Liberal government." The Review does not know just how many dozen students of political economy there are in Canada but it is one to judge from the results of the election it is dollars to doughnuts that there are thousands and thousands of the common ordinary garden variety of Canadian economics who are greatly rejoicing over the defeat of the Liberal government.

Two Town Teams Play During Week

Town Draws with Callies and Bricks Win 4-1.

During the past week both Redcliff football teams have had a game. The Town team played the Callies last Thursday in the League fixture. The game ended in a draw—one all. This places the Town one point up in the league with only one more game to play. This is with the Legion to-night.

On Tuesday evening of this week the Brick & Coal played the Callies here in the five rounds and won out by 4 goals to 1. The Bricks scored 3 goals in rapid succession in the first half.

After 15 minutes play the second half they scored again and just a few minutes before the whistle the Callies scored their only goal of the game.

A feature of the scoring was the first goal put into the net by Foy from a corner kick without touching any other player.

The contest for the Five Rounds Cup is very close. All teams still have a chance of winning it.

Fire Brigade Had Call Last Sunday

Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Van Wort Damaged.

Between four and five hundred dollars damage by fire, water and smoke was done to the residence and contents of Mr. and Mrs. Van Wort last Sunday about noon. As the family were all away at the time it is not known just how it started. It would appear however to have started in a small cupboard near the kitchen stove and over a fire place. Neighbors noticed smoke emitting from the room near the chimney and sent in the alarm. The brigade made a rapid turn-out and despite the fact that the building is all frame and the fire had a good start, the firemen had it under control in a few minutes.

The house had recently been remodelled and renovated through at considerable expense.

Most of the furniture was removed from the house before being damaged. The Review would suggest that at fires of this kind one member of the brigade be appointed to superintend the removal of the contents.

We understand that repairs of the damage to the building will be proceeded with at once.

After the Council discussed the situation disclosed recommendations will be made for consideration of the Government and will form a basis for unemployment relief measures to be submitted to Parliament at the special session early next month.

A World Subject of Discussion

The whole civilized world is discussing one subject today.—Tariffs.—And in those countries which are the more highly organized, where the standard of living is highest, where the most modern and efficient methods of production, both in agriculture and in industry, prevail, the discussion is most keen.

For over a year and a half the United States has been in the throes of a nation-wide struggle over the new Hawley-Smoot tariff, the effect of which is to raise duties against all other countries to a height never before attained.

In Great Britain, Lord Beaverbrook, supported by his fellow publisher, Lord Rothermere, is engaged in a great campaign of publicity with the object of swinging the British people into support of a new fiscal system, based on the idea of free trade within the Empire, or as near an approach to it as possible, coupled with tariffs against all foreign countries. Mr. Chamberlain still maintains his stand in favor of what are termed "safeguarding" of industry duties, coupled with a referendum on the question of placing a tax on food supplies in order that a preference may be given to the overseas Dominion.

In France, in Germany, in Italy, and in other European countries feelings akin to bitterness have developed against the United States because of the higher duties that country has levied against the world. All these nations, heavy debtors to the United States, feel outraged that the only means whereby they can pay their war debts to the U.S., namely, by exports to that country, is thus largely closed to them. Talk of reprisals is general, and in a number of instances higher tariffs have been imposed, particularly on products and manufactured goods in which the United States is a large exporter.

The Commonwealth of Australia, finding itself over-burdened with an extremely heavy national debt, and in need of larger revenues, has raised its tariff to new heights, and in regard to certain articles has entirely prohibited their importation.

In Canada, the recent Budget of Hon. C. A. Dunning, imposing countervailing duties on a specified list of articles against the United States, raising other duties as against that country, and increasing the scope of the preference accorded to Great Britain and other parts of the Empire, is now a daily household topic all over the Dominion, and the outstanding issue in the general election campaign now in progress.

Without presuming to offer any opinion on the relative merits of High Tariffs, Low Tariffs, or no Tariffs at all, because to do so would be to enter into the realm of partisan discussion, and the object of this column is not in this column, the question may well be asked: What is to be the outcome of this world tendency on the part of practically all nations to erect trade barriers one against the other, and each one against all others?

Certain facts must be recognized and admitted by all. It cannot be denied that Tariffs do engender hard feelings and suspicions between nations, and when such feelings develop, no matter what the cause, there is always great danger of the existing bitterness becoming gradually more intense, and the opposing peoples brought to a frame of mind where they are less ready to co-operate in other matters for the common good of all. In a word, international goodwill is placed in jeopardy, and a situation exists in which a small little spark might easily start a mighty conflagration.—another World War in fact.

But even should such a dire calamity not result, what is going to be the economic effect on the world, and on each separate nation, if one and all pursue the policy of erecting trade barriers each against the others? The logical end, of course, would be the complete closure of all international trade. With each nation refusing to buy from other nations, or at least making it as difficult as possible to do so, it would inevitably follow that no nation could sell to any other nation, or to a very limited extent. This is a situation that must be faced, because it is looming up on the horizon in view of the economic and fiscal policies now under such wide discussion.

If nations decide not to buy largely, or at all from other nations, it follows, we repeat, that there will be no buying nations to other nations, or at least sell. Will this return to the advantage of any nation? Take the United States as an example. If it refuses to buy from others, and those others in return refuse to buy from it, will the United States be better off? Can its own people consume the products of its factories and mines? The answer, of course, is "No." Then the inevitable result is less production, which in turn means less employment, and decreased employment means decreased buying power, and that means still further decrease in consumption, production, employment, buying power.

It means further that if other nations will not buy goods made in the United States, the manufacturers in that country will direct branch factories in foreign lands, and employ the people of those countries. Thus these foreign people will secure employment at the expense of the United States workers.

And if other countries follow the same policy and do likewise, how much better off will any one of them be if they continued to raise those crops for which by nature they are best fitted to produce, or manufacture largely for world trade, and each distribute freely to the other?

The need of the hour in all lands would appear to be sound thinking and sane consideration of basic economic principles, divorced from purely nationalistic desires and emotions.

Weather Service For Pilots

Conditions Made Much Safer For Adventurers Air Explorers
The non-stop "planes" which may leave Europe to fly the hitherto almost certain death westward trip across the North Atlantic, have a new aid. This is a new weather service, started in May, 1930, that plans the first complete ocean forecasting.

In its files are pictures that explain better than words why but one west-bound non-stop plane has crossed the North Atlantic, while eight have made it in the other direction. Take, for illustration, one of the pictures, the weather map of the North Atlantic, on November 25 last, during preliminary organization. The lines that mark the course of the winds trace a vast shape, that looks like a devilish whirl flying the ocean from Newfoundland to Ireland.

Its eyes are two whirling cyclones set one-third the distance out from Newfoundland. The circles swing outward to the Azores and then nearly to Greenland. On it the thing which swallowed the westbound plane without track from the French ace, Nungesser, to Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, and the Hon. E. A. Tamm, is apparent. A steady rush of air toward Europe.

Though from locality to locality, the weather changes, and the wind is always into the teeth of the west-bound plane, with a ranging rally of 10 miles the Gulf Stream, entering above the stream, though immensely wider, and subject to swings of nearly 1,000 miles. Westward planes, bucking even the mildest of these currents, were cut down 10 miles an hour, and often far more. The figure must be multiplied by two to obtain the actual disadvantage.

The effect gives the westbound plane a fairer ocean to cross, as if the American coastline were pushed back nearly to Chicago. The new ocean forecasting can warn of tempests that sometimes develop from nothing even during the few hours a cross "plane" takes.

The resulting charts are made by Dr. James Kimball, of the New York weather bureau. For 1915, his charts have worked virtually extra hours on ocean weather, as a hobby. Dr. B. H. Culbert, chief of the forestry division at Washington, made two trips to Europe, in getting the work done.

Alberta Gas Fields

Three Hundred Million Cubic Feet Wasted Daily, Being Burned In Air

Oil and gas wells drilled in Alberta fields have combined gas capacity of approximately 50,000,000 cubic feet daily. This figure includes wells which have been capped. This figure is made up as follows: The province has 300,000 cubic feet wasted daily, burned in the air. From 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Rogers' Imperial Well: This capped well is believed capable of producing 60,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Burditt and Bow Island: This field, with 19 wells capped, is believed capable of producing between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Medicine Hat Field: This field produces 4,000,000 cubic feet daily, practically all of which is used.

Viking field, near Edmonton: This field has a capacity of 7,000,000 cubic feet daily. There are 21 wells.

Kinsella field: This field has a capacity of about 30,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Wainwright, Athabasca and other small gas fields throughout the province have a combined capacity of about 20,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Have the military authorities lost the art of attractive advertisement? Most people think that the twentieth century is much superior to the nineteenth so far as advertising is concerned, but there are no modern recruiting posters that can compare with a notice issued on behalf of the Light Dragons in 1861, and which was referred to by the Secretary of State for War recently. "You will be mounted," the notice informed, "on the finest horses in the world, with superb clothing and the richest accoutrements. . . . your society is courted; you are admired by the fair! It went on to hold out the alluring prospect of marriage with "a buxom widow" or "a rich heiress," which rendered the Light Dragons' situation "truly enviable and desirable."

A DELICACY WITH FRESH BERRIES

1 package vanilla junket.
1 pint milk.
Strawberries.
Powdered sugar.

Make junket according to directions on package. When ready to serve, cut berries with powdered sugar and fill up the glass.

Fruits like orange, pineapple and strawberries should not be put into the milk when making junket, as the fruit causes it to whey. Crushed and sweetened, these fruits make tasty toppings.

Blackberries or raspberries may be put into the dessert, also canned or preserved berries, peaches or other fruits.

Ceremonies Were Simple

Memorable First In Iceland Opened

By King Christian

Christian, King of Iceland, on June 28, opened the 1890 session of the Icelandic Parliament, holding at the very spot where one thousand years ago this oldest parliament, in the world first was convened. King Christian stood upon a huge rock in the middle of the plain of Thingval, where Grim Gort-beard, the low-giver, in ancient days, cut from memory the entire code of Icelandic law.

The ceremony was simple as of old, so simple as to obtain an almost religious aspect. The broad plain, bounded on the south by a great lake, on the north by rugged snow-capped mountains, the low-giver, in ancient days, cut from memory the entire code of Icelandic law.

Newest Novelty In Paris

Ten Tables Are Now Covered With Map-Cloths

The French need no longer be identified as a race which doesn't know its geography. The newest novelty in Paris is the map-cloth on the tea table. On them are maps embroidered in color. You can sip tea over Ireland and the Isle of Man, or over the old Barbary States, with all the rivers and mountains named. These novel tablecloths are in parchment shade which makes them look like leaves out of a real atlas.

High in Mental Ability

George Bernard Shaw Brainiest Man in England According to Vote Taken

George Bernard Shaw, according to readers of The Spectator, the well-known London weekly, ranks as the best brains in the country. The Spectator is a journal circulating among the more thoughtful class of people whose opinions in regard to mental ability are worth considering.

The result of the recent vote is interesting in many ways. Here are the leading men in their "order of merit": Bernard Shaw, 214; Sir Oliver Lodge, 184; Lord Bunsford, 162; Winston Churchill, 95; Dean Inge, 91; H. G. Wells, 86; Lord Melchett, 62; Lloyd George, 50; Philip Snowden, 48; Sir John Simon, 45.

The present prime minister does not receive a vote. He is a "big game" but not a "big brain." The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Lang, finds no place but the Archbishop of York, (Dr. Temple), with 22 votes follows closely upon the heels of Lord Reading, who obtained 35. Sir James Harris is "placed" by 15 votes and follows G. K. Chesterton's 17.

Bred in Western Canada

A great majority of the people have the mistaken idea that the wild duck supply comes from remote northern fastnesses. Most of the ducks ordinarily hunted for game, except the black duck and perhaps the green-winged teal, to a certain extent, are western in their breeding range. The canvas-backs, red-heads, mallards and scaups, which are shot in Ontario and Quebec in the open season, are bred in Western Canada.

"Don't forget that when you have bought the car you still have the petrol to pay for," says a writer. It's the spirit of the times that counts.

Obtain Tube To Convert Gulf Stream To Electrical Energy Collapses

A giant tube built at a cost of more than $1,000,000 and designed to harness the waters of the Gulf Stream to convert them into electrical energy, collapsed when sunk in the sea near Matanzas, Cuba, and was destroyed.

The tube was designed by Georges Claude, French scientist. It was built of corrugated steel, was 1,800 meters long and required three months to build.

The plan was to place the great tube in a channel on the bottom of the sea to serve as a pipe line from the Gulf Stream to a power plant erected at Professor Claude's laboratory along the golf shore, near Matanzas. Professor Claude's theory was that the Gulf Stream water, being subjected to vacuum would rise to the boiling point and produce steam sufficient to turn great turbines for generating electrical power.

Beauty and Usefulness

No Reason Why Everyday Things Should Not Be Attractive

The summer has come to rejoice over the reunion of beauty with usefulness. Where else if not in the home should such a movement exist? Its most beneficial influence? There is no reason why beauty, like charity, should not begin at home; why the lamp in the boudoir, the gas range in the kitchen, the ash tray in the library, the automobile in the garage should not be designed and colored by the best artists industry can afford to employ.

This dig into the realm of art which modern business has taken is more than a profitable lease appeal. It is a cultural force that if not dissipated in a straining toward extremes, may eventually help to raise the level of popular taste.

The platform can be erected at the base of the hills and speakers can be seen and heard by thousands with comfort. The festivities are slated to start about 11 a.m., when bands from points in Manitoba and the provinces will be presenting musical programmes until the noon hour. Pique basket lunch will take about an hour, to be followed by a symbolic ceremony to indicate the linking up of the good road highway system of Manitoba and Saskatchewan at that point. Honorable W. R. Clubb, Manitoba Minister of Public Works and Honorable A. C. Stovell, Minister of Highways for Saskatchewan, are expected to function as the chief participants in this symbolic ceremony. Governor Olson, of Minnesota and possibly Governor Sorenson, of North Dakota, are expected to be on hand to give the opening friendly International flavor. There will be picnic games, a Buffalo barbecue, and a national silhouettes contest. If necessary, a surfeit of death baseball tournament between all star Manitoba and Saskatchewan teams will be played. Altogether it is freely conceded that a very pleasant time will be had on this occasion. Hot water and hot dogs will be available on the grounds. And the world is invited to attend.

Many will ask what is this all about? The aims and objects of the Inter-Provincial Association, which is the body set up to handle this picnic, is stated in its literature to be "Organized by communities and public bodies of Manitoba and Saskatchewan to celebrate in the form of an Inter-Provincial Picnic, on Labor Day, September 1st, 1930, at the Manitoba-Saskatchewan boundary in the form of a picnic on the River Valley at the junction, near Roblin, Manitoba, of Scenic Highway No. 5, with Saskatchewan Highway No. 10; the completion and linking of all weather roadway systems of Manitoba and Saskatchewan at that point." While the basis of the appeal to the public and especially the motorists to come and celebrate is largely from the standpoint of well rounded publicity, there is a strong sentimental urge behind the proposal. To those who have watched the development of transportation of people and things through the Prairie Provinces from the old Red River cart to the present day motor car and motor bus, must come the realization that we in Western Canada stand in the bright light of a new day insofar as transportation over our prairies is concerned. The old motor transportation is upon us and while we rejoice in its coming, we all have deeply rooted attachments for the old mode of things. And so the Inter-Provincial Picnic is conceived as a publicity medium, as a sentimental appeal, and

Monster Inter-Provincial Picnic

Will Celebrate Linking of Manitoba and Saskatchewan Highways At Gateway On Labor Day

Arrangements are rapidly being pushed forward for the monster Inter-Provincial Picnic, on Labor Day, at the Manitoba-Saskatchewan boundary east of Winnipeg. An all-inclusive meeting of the representatives of various communities in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, sponsoring the picnic, took place recently at Roblin, and spent a busy afternoon discussing different items in connection with the picnic. The general chairman of the Association, Art Steink, of Dauphin, kept the boys working hard on their various problems. A welcome visitor on the occasion was "Ace" Emmett, of the Manitoba Motor Club, in his capacity of spokesman for anything which makes for development of tourist traffic and good roads, made a special appeal to Winnipeg to attend the picnic. Following the business session, and spurred by the enthusiasm of H. J. Steink, the general chairman, the groups committee of the Manitoba section, the meeting adjourned to the picnic grounds at Roblin, on Scenic Highway No. 5, 5 miles south of Roblin to view the site chosen for the picnic grounds. The picnic grounds, available through the courtesy of the owner "Bill" Thompson, an old timer in the Roblin district.

At the site chosen for the picnic, which will be of the basket variety, there is a beautiful level meadow surrounded by trees and shrubs, with the Assiniboine River on the western limit. Rising from the meadow is a small hill, the top of which is the site of the Assiniboine Valley, at that point about six miles wide, there is a natural break in the hills, and the banks of the river, practically free of trees, and ideally suited for accommodating thousands of people. A platform can be erected at the base of the hills and speakers can be seen and heard by thousands with comfort. The festivities are slated to start about 11 a.m., when bands from points in Manitoba and the provinces will be presenting musical programmes until the noon hour. as a disseminating agent of good will between the Prairie communities and our friends to the south of the U.S.A. border, and as a gathering to evidence the fact that good roads for which we have long struggled have brought distant communities practically at each other door.

Using Small Seadrome

San Francisco Air Ferry Has Float Anchored At End Of U.S.A. Border

A seadrome, built on the principles of proposed mid-sea landing places for aeroplanes, has been put in service by a San Francisco air ferry service. It is 100 feet wide, and declared to be the smallest floating island landing place in the country.

Shaped like an inverted saucer, the landing contrivance has a smooth rounded top and beneath it is built a system of air tanks which may be regulated to control the depth and buoyancy of the floating float. The artificial island lies in a shallow bay with sand on the inclines to prevent the aeroplanes from sliding. The float is cemented into place, and a float is anchored at the end of a dock where more than 85 landings a day are made with a similar number of take-offs.

Serum Saves Children

Serum Treatment For Infantile Paralysis Used Successfully

Great tremendous strides have been made in curing infantile paralysis that most often strikes in the province of Ontario last year who received serum on the first day of illness, was paralyzed. Neither was there a death among them. These facts are contained in a pamphlet published by the Federal Department of National Health under the supervision of Dr. Helen Macmurchy, chief of the division of child welfare.

Because of the large number of cases of this disease in Canada last year, and particularly in Ontario, the department published the booklet which gives, in clear and understandable language, directions to mothers for taking care of stricken children. Last year there were 834 cases in Ontario, and which 558 were in Ontario, and 80 in Quebec. No province was free from cases. There were 70 deaths.

An Expensive "Toy"

Perfect Model Of London's Underground Shows Safety Of System

Perhaps the most expensive "toy" in the world, and one which has certainly cost the taxpayers of London a goodly sum of money, was put on show at a London underground station, recently. This was a complete model of the underground system, consisting of a miniature track, with three beautifully made model trains. The idea of the model is to show those who travel by Underground how the safety system works. As the train runs, they switch on the red signal lights behind them. Then, as they pass from one section to the next, the lights turn to green. So the model shows quite clearly that there can never be two trains on any one section at the same time.

Canadian Bond Sales

Amount Being Invested In Bonds Speaks Well For Prosperity Of Dominion

The first five months of the present calendar year new Canadian bond sales total $22,677,277, as compared with $22,765,012 for the similar period of 1929, and $20,265,960 for that of 1928. Two thirds of the whole, or $14,899,277, were purchased in Canada, while the remainder, amounting to $7,777,999 were bought in the United States.

Good Even If Old

Students of Ottawa University have been served plum jam which has been built in the scholastic grounds for twenty-seven years, and they liked it. Forty quarters of the preserves were found buried several feet in the earth by excavators, working on the location of the old kitchen destroyed by fire in 1903.

Representations To Iceland

Interesting Ceremony Concluded At Meeting At Thingvellir

A bronze tablet, bearing the likeness of Thomas H. Johnson, at one time minister of public works and later attorney-general of Manitoba, was unveiled at Thingvellir, by Hon. W. J. Major and officially presented to Iceland as Manitoba's millennial gift. The tablet, which bears an excellent likeness of the first Icelandic to occupy a cabinet position in a Canadian legislature, hangs on the wall of the satchel-chamber in the parliament building. A large number of Canadian Icelanders were in attendance after Mr. Major's address "O Canada" sounded for the first time in Icelandic legislative halls. The ceremony closed with the Icelandic and British National Anthems. The gift of the United States was officially presented by Senator Burness and Dr. Sveinbjorn Johnson.

Arnli Eggertsson officially presented the resolution passed by the last session of the Canadian parliament, declaring its desire to honor Iceland with a gift which will be most acceptable. The character of the gift will be determined by the recommendation of the Canadian representatives.

Germany's gift to Iceland on this occasion is complete equipment for a scientific laboratory. For the building, when erected, Sweden presented a library of 800 books; Norway an exchange scholarship fund; Denmark a Copenhagen porcelain vase and bestowed upon the president of the Icelandic laboratory. For the building of the Viglafur House, a bronze bust of the Icelandic American sculptress, Nina Hammarsten, was the gift of the Danish women of America.

There were numerous other gifts and countless illuminated addresses in most elaborate bindings. The celebration officially closed after three wonderful days at Thingvellir.

Good Roads Program

Extensive Mileage In The National Parks Being Built This Year

Good roads are being extended to every part of Canada. In the rural areas, the order of the government is a network of paved or surfaced roads, which not only are of benefit to the motorists but the remainder, amounting to $7,777,999 were bought in the United States. The National Parks of Canada, the great playgrounds of the country, maintained by the Canadian Government, there is an extensive mileage of improved roads. The road building programme in these parks this year is a substantial one and the provincial governments are constructing sections to connect the roads in the parks with the principal provincial highways.
